- By train

Milano has several railway stations, the most important of which are Central Station, Garibaldi Station and Cadorna Station, all served by city's underground. National and international high-speed trains depart daily and allow connections to destinations such as Paris, Geneva, Basel, Bern, Dijon, Lausanne, Marseille, Munich, Nice, Stuttgart, Vienna and Zurich.

It is possible to find detailed information and timetables on Italian railway companies' websites: <http://www.trenitalia.com/tcom-en> and <https://www.italotreno.it/en>.

- By car

Thanks to its location, Milano is the intersection point of three major EU transport corridors: the Mediterranean, the Rhone-Alpine and the Scandinavian Mediterranean, meaning that the city lies at the centre of a network of motorways' connections. Milano is easily reachable by car not only from Italian regions and cities, but also from other nations, for example Swiss and French borders are just a few hour drive away.

Anyway, we would like to remind you that during weekdays the car access to the city centre is allowed only upon payment of a ticket. To find detailed information about this congestion charge (known as "Area C"), please visit

Getting around

- By public transportation

Public transportation is one of the easiest – and fastest – ways to get around in Milano. The city is provided with 4 underground lines, numerous bus and trams lines, the latter of which can be considered as one of the symbols of Milano.

It is possible to check lines and plan your journey at <https://www.atm.it/en/Pages/default.aspx>.

Tickets range from urban to extra-urban, depending on the distance of your destination, and they cannot be purchased on board. You can buy tickets at the tickets machines located in railway and underground stations, at newspapers stands, tobacconists, bars or through ATM App, as you can read here: <https://www.atm.it/en/ViaggiaConNoi/Biglietti/Pages/Doveacquistare.aspx>.

- By taxi

Taxi is a comfortable and quick means and Milano is the European city with more taxis per capita. It is possible to find several taxi ranks, but on request you can book a taxi calling the number +39 02.7777.

You can also contact directly radiotaxi companies:

- Car sharing

Considering the existence of a congestion charge intended to reduce the number of cars entering the city centre area, it is advisable to use a car sharing service. The companies offering car sharing are GirACI (<https://giraci.com/it/milano>), Car2Go (www.car2go.com), E-vai (www.e-vai.com), Enjoy (<http://enjoy.eni.com>), Share 'Ngo (www.sharengo.it) and Drive Now (<https://it.drive-now.com/en/>).

Good to know: with six different operators, Milano is the Italian city where car sharing is more widespread.

- Bike sharing

BikeMi (the bike sharing service of the municipality, <https://www.bikemi.com/en/homepage.aspx>), and the two free floating bike services Ofo (<https://www.ofo.com/uk/en/>) and Mobike (<https://mobike.com/it/>) are further options to easily move around the city.

Event venues

Fabbrica del Vapore, via Giulio Cesare Procaccini 4 - Milan

by underground line M5 (also known as Lilac line), through “Cenisio” station

Fabbrica del Vapore is a former industrial site converted into a space for performing arts and culture. The building, a remarkable example of late 19th century industrial architecture, now belongs to the Municipality, that is transforming it in a fundamental hub for Milano’s cultural life. Fabbrica del Vapore hosts temporary cultural exhibitions and, after a public call, has become a base for many associations and enterprises working in the field of arts.

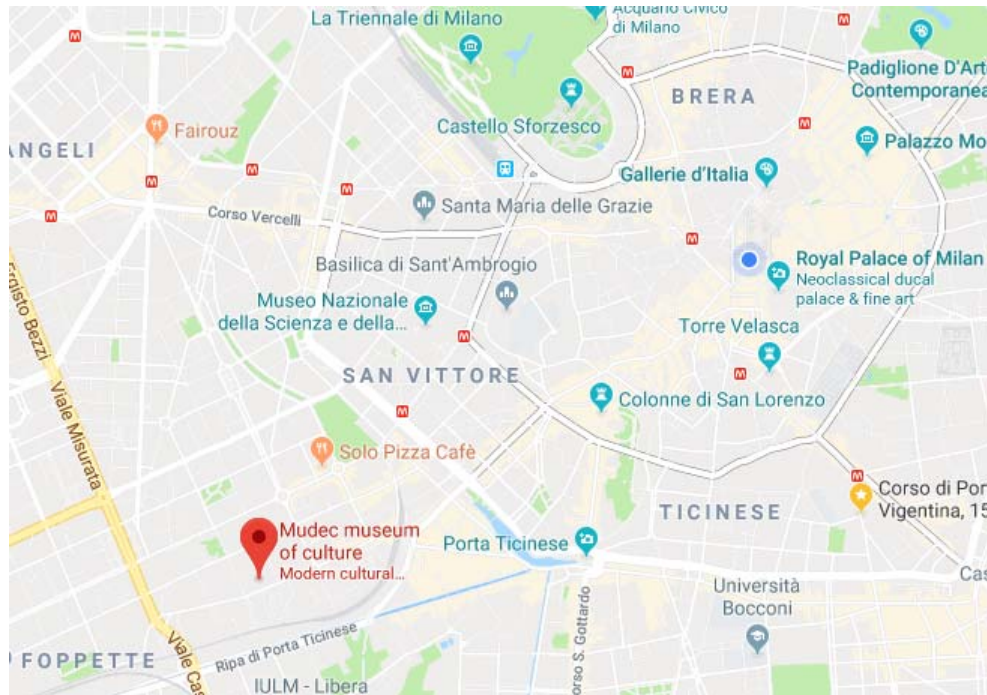

If you are considering reaching the venue by public transportation, you can easily use the journey planner at <http://giromilano.atm.it/#/home/en>, in order to calculate the easiest way to reach Fabbrica del Vapore from your starting point.

The dinner on 7th November will be hosted by MUDEC, the Museum of Cultures, in via Tortona 56.

Before the dinner, guests will have the possibility to have a guided tour of the permanent collection of the museum.

The Museum of Cultures, built on the site of the old Ansaldo factory, displays the municipal collections of ethnographic material and it is a meeting place for cultures and communities. The complex comprises different spaces to offer visitors and the city a whole range of cultural events and facilities. It is located in the Tortona district, roughly 7km from the city centre, and can easily be reached by car or public transportation (the nearest underground station is Green line's "Porta Genova").

The Nuvola (cloud) is the most distinctive part of the museum, designed by the famous architect Chipperfield. The idea underlying the design was to use the connecting spaces between the new blocks to create a covered plaza. Its unique character makes it the ideal place for events such as dinners.
