

URBAN-NEXUS

2012 DIALOGUE
CAFE

GLASGOW 29th & 30th May

AGENDA: Urban Climate Resilience - Partnership Approaches

This first URBAN-NEXUS Dialogue Café will be an opportunity to:

- share knowledge with other researchers, urban professionals and practitioners from across the public, private and third sectors;
- identify complex issues shared by European cities in building resilience to climate change;
- develop connections and networks with other organisations to explore priorities and potential options for future cooperation and collaboration.

Tuesday 29th

9:00 Registration

9:30 Welcome, about URBAN-NEXUS and what to expect.

10:00 Session A: "Starting the Dialogue – who are we, what can we share and why?"

Please bring an image or an object that symbolises what urban climate resilience means for you.

Aim: to acknowledge the diversity, composition and shared issues for participants:

- What does urban climate resilience mean for us, our organisations, roles and responsibilities?
- What is the state of the art across Europe?
- What are the critical evidence and knowledge gaps and the priorities for future strategic research?
- What can we share, what issues do we have in common, are there conflicting agendas, what do we stand to gain or lose?

12:30 Buffet lunch

13:30 to 16:30 Session B: "City Futures – doom and gloom or hope and glory"

How would it feel to live, work and play in a climate resilient city? What would it look and sound like? We will explore what changes are needed, by whom, how and when?

- Where are the conflicts of interest - who or what is at risk?
- How can critical information gaps be overcome to support improved decision-making?
- What are the needs, challenges and opportunities for trans-national cooperation and data exchange?
- What are the potential challenges and implications for other social, economic and environmental agendas?
- Who needs to be involved in developing and agreeing solutions and at what stage?

19:30 Buffet reception: Riverside Museum

Wednesday 30th

9:00 Recap of yesterday and overview of today

9:10 Frihamnen (Free Port), Göteborg – retreat or defend? Adapting cities to climate-induced risk. Sofia Thorsson, Associate Professor in Physical Geography, Göteborg University

9:30 Session C: "Catalysing City Connections"

Identify interests and opportunities for continuing the dialogue as URBAN-NEXUS evolves. Explore priorities and options for potential cooperation and collaboration in longer-term strategic partnerships. Format will include "open microphone" and "Partners' Market".
