2- Detailed programme of the site visits

10.45-11.00 Start of the Visit

11.00-11.30 Visit of the District Mansion

Following a "Life-Long Learning" approach Beyoğlu Municipality has established the system of District Mansions. There, specific courses are provided for free to everyone from primary and secondary school students to university students, youth but also adults among which housewives.

District Mansions gather different service units that social municipalism requires, and hence makes district community to access many service units from education to health, from cultural activities to social co-operations.

Every year, 2500-3000 students attend courses in the District Mansions. Beyoğlu Municipality owns 12 District Mansions in different quarter of its municipal borders and moreover have 2 District Mansions which constructions still continues.

11.40-12.00 Visit of the Social Market

Beyoglu Municipality started the Social Market system within the scope of the food banking project in collaboration with Turkish Red Crescent İstiklal Branch and Beyoğlu District Governorate's Social Aid and Fraternity Foundation.

In this social market at where no money is used only the relevant cardholders can shop products. The electronic shopping cards with the limits defined in certain categories according to the conditions of the people in need of aid are delivered to the poor people as determined through the research by the social aid site teams of our Municipality.

12.10-12.30 Visit of Turabibaba Library

The Turabibaba Building which hosts today the Beyoğlu Municipality Turabibaba Library was in the 18th Century a Dervish lodge. Further, the building was used as Kasımpaşa Sport Clup, but with the fire incident in 1975, the building collapsed due to lack of maintenance and later on with the initiative of Beyoğlu Municipality, the building has been constructed according to its' original structure and completed in 2008.

Consequently, the dervish lodge has been reshaped with a new function. The Turabibaba Library aims to support education and to meet book-readers' demand for documentation and information in all media in the area of Beyoğlu District where the income of the local citizens is low. Turabibaba Library has a very positive impact on the local citizens, not only books are borrowed but seminars, special reading days are organised.
