

I. Rules for fair platform work

1. Decent work must be strengthened and further promoted as an asset worth protecting.
2. Good practices and approaches should be promoted.
3. Existing laws should be applied.
4. New and far-reaching regulatory instruments must be created.

II. Cities as centres of the platform economy

5. The urban policy level can be used as a place for networking with other levels of government.
6. Reinforce an open culture of exchange between cities.

III. Representation of interests, advice and transparency

7. Trade unions should cooperate more strongly with political institutions and platforms.
8. Provide more targeted information and advice to platform workers.
9. Create internal communication possibilities for platform workers.
10. We need more transparency, also about algorithms.

IV. Skills development

11. Document skills and develop new forms of certification.
12. Education and training in the platform economy.

I. Rules for fair platform work

1. Decent work must be strengthened and further promoted as an asset worth protecting.
2. Good practices and approaches should be promoted.
3. Existing laws should be applied.
4. New and far-reaching regulatory instruments must be created.

II. Cities as centres of the platform economy

5. The urban policy level can be used as a place for networking with other levels of government.
6. Reinforce an open culture of exchange between cities.

III. Representation of interests, advice and transparency

7. Trade unions should cooperate more strongly with political institutions and platforms.
8. Provide more targeted information and advice to platform workers.
9. Create internal communication possibilities for platform workers.
10. We need more transparency, also about algorithms.

IV. Skills development

11. Document skills and develop new forms of certification.

12. Education and training in the platform economy.